Special Edition: Celebrating 10 Years of Daytime Healthcare

This year marks a major milestone in our journey: 10 incredible years of Daytime Healthcare.

What began as a simple idea to connect quality healthcare professionals with the organisations that need them most has grown into a trusted name in healthcare staffing. Over the past decade, we've built more than just a company, we've built a community.

Together with hundreds of dedicated workers like you, we've filled critical shifts, supported clients across the country, and made real impact in people's lives. From expanding across regions to supporting causes like Tree of Hope and SPACE Hertfordshire, our story has always been about people and that includes you.

We've provided over 50 work placements, championed apprenticeships, and partnered with schools and training providers to open doors for others and every step of the way, your contribution has mattered.

As we look to the future, we're dreaming even bigger to grow, evolve, and transform what workforce solutions can look like.

Thank you for being part of our story so far. Here's to the next 10 years, full of growth, purpose, and impact.

Is Your ID Badge Up To Date?

In line with company policy and our client requirements, all workers are required to carry a valid ID badge while on shift. Failure to present a valid ID badge may result in you being unable to commence your shift and could lead to being sent home without pay.

Take a moment to check your ID badge. If it has expired or is close to expiring, ensure you send us an up-to-date photo and contact your dedicated compliance officer. They'll be happy to assist you with updating your badge to avoid any disruption to your upcoming shifts.

Update Your Clinical Skills

If you've gained a new qualification, completed training in a different clinical setting, or acquired experience in a new area within the past 12 months, we'd love to hear about it!

Keeping your profile current allows us to better match you with roles that align with your growing expertise. An increased number of our clients are requesting staff with specific clinical skills to provide care for specialised patient groups. To ensure you don't miss out on these opportunities, please keep your profile up to date by completing our 'Clinical Role Update Form' which will be shared by email.

At the end of the form, you'll find a section where you can express interest in our bespoke training packages. These specific trainings have been handpicked to equip you with essential specialist skills and knowledge to support you in your role while working in various clinical settings.

Welcome Ophelia Kani: Director of Care Quality and Clinical Governance

We're pleased to welcome Ophelia Kani to the team as our new Director of Care Quality and Clinical Governance, supporting both Daytime Healthcare and Quality Care Cover.

Ophelia is a highly experienced healthcare leader with a strong track record in improving service quality, supporting staff development, and ensuring safe, person-centred care across a range of settings. She has led multidisciplinary teams in both clinical and community environments and brings a compassionate, inclusive approach to leadership.

She has held senior roles across the NHS, private, and charitable sectors, and has been recognised for her commitment to excellence, staff wellbeing, and putting people at the heart of care.

Ophelia will be working closely with all teams to strengthen quality assurance, regulatory compliance, and service user involvement.

She brings with her a strong academic foundation, holding advanced qualifications in mental health, public health, business management, and trauma practice, which underpin her holistic and strategic approach to care.

Please join us in giving Ophelia a warm welcome!

Farewell Titi Ogunyanwo

After more than seven years with Daytime Healthcare/Quality Care Cover, it is with a heavy heart that I bid farewell as I embark on new adventures across the pond.

My time here has been filled with learning, growth, and moments both challenging and rewarding that have shaped my professional path. I leave with fond memories, a wealth of experience and invaluable strengths that I will carry forward.

It has been a true pleasure working alongside such supportive, passionate, and dedicated frontline staff individuals who all play a vital role in the ongoing success of both the NHS and the private healthcare sectors.

I wish nothing but continued success in both the personal and professional development of all of the healthcare professionals I have had the pleasure to cross paths with.

Sincerely Titi,
Compliance and Quality Improvement Manager.
